Appendix

Meeting with the Client to discuss:

- Minimum requirements for the website

- Page Examples to include

- Site Map

- Desired colour scheme

- Navigation Style

- Home Page Requirements

Data Collected (Interview)
Minimum requirements for the website	- Can be displayed on - User friendly
Page Examples to include	- Home - For Sale - Confidentiality Agreement - Appraisal - Company Profile - Contact Us

Site Map	Nexus Business Broking

	Home Page
	     Slider

	For Sale
	     for.sale.cafe.html (Links to information about the listing

	Confidentiality Agreement
	     NonDisclosureAgreement.pdf

	Appraisal
	     Appraisal Form

	Company Profile

	Contact Us
	     Google Maps with the location of the main office

Desired colour scheme	• Navy blue – similar to that of the logo and that of the original website • White
Navigation Style	• A navigation bar on the top of the webpage that can be seen at all times
Home Page Requirements	• Has a section that introduces the company • Has links to other webpages • A slider that can calculate the price of the commission based on the estimated price of a business

Meeting with the client to discuss his opinion on the product after a demonstration and test:

Developer: What do you think about the product?

Client: "It is a great upgrade from our previous website design and is more dynamic. It is more user friendly and business appealing. The layout and presentation is a lot more thought through than the old design. It has moved our old website from a more sterile atmosphere to a more dynamic one. A site being over 15 years old is definitely due for a modern refit."

Developer: What do you think are some things that could be implemented in the future?

Client: "I would love the website to be mobile friendly. I always have customers stressing the existence of a mobile friendly website as everyone just accesses the internet on their phones. So, in the future having a mobile version of the website created would be great. However, I think that the website is perfect for our company and is just what we need and a big improvement."

Developer: What do you like about the product?

Client: "It is very user friendly and appealing. I particularly like the listing page (for.sale.html) and the listing profile (for.sale.cafe.html). I like use of the icons on the top of the page – I think they look very professional, and I like that there is a slideshow and room for photos.